

Consultel Irl Ltd is an Independent Telecommunications Consultancy Service.

Consultel was established to help companies of all sizes achieve the maximum business efficiency from their telecommunication and technology systems. We are a fully independent Telecommunications Consultancy Company with no allegiance to any preferred system/vendor.

Our Services include...

- Telecommunications Management.
- IT and Telecommunications Infrastructure Design.
- Project & Vendor Management.
- Office and Technology relocation.
- Call/Contact centre system design and acquisition.
- Examination and evaluation of existing systems.

Our aim is to work with clients to determine the best manner in which to proceed with technology choices, network arrangements and simple communication options. Consultel has a deep understanding of Telecommunication technologies and how to integrate them for maximum business efficiency.

We would like to meet with you to discuss any recent or upcoming projects you may have. If you would like to arrange an initial consultation with no fee, you may contact us via email at info@consultel.ie
